

NEXT CONGRESS TO BE REPUBLICAN IN BOTH BRANCHES

between the Meuse and the Bar, moving forward at one place more than three miles. The Americans reached Chemery, seven and one-half miles south-southwest of Sedan. East of Chemery the American lines now run through Maison-Celle, Flaba and the Bois du Fond de Limon.

(When they reached Chemery the troops of the American First Army had advanced slightly more than twenty-seven miles since the offensive west of the Meuse began on Sept. 26.)

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Allies have pushed forward to within less than four miles of Maubeuge, according to battlefield despatches received here this afternoon.

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (via London).—American troops yesterday advanced across the River Meuse south of Dün, under a violent protective fire, and penetrated the woods and heights on the east bank of the river between Milly and Vilosnes, the German General Staff announced to-day.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The retreat of the Germans along the whole of the French front continues, according to the War Office statement to-day. The French are in contact with the enemy rearguards.

The French have crossed the Aisne on both sides of Rethel, capturing Barby, west of Rethel. North of the Argonne the French also have moved forward, reaching the outskirts of Laménil and La Cassine.

North of Maple, the French have passed beyond Voharies, five miles southwest of the important railway junction of Vervins. Italian troops have occupied Le Thuel, four miles southeast of Montcornet.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The British last night continued to press after the retreating Germans beyond the Mormal Forest, where they have reached the main road from Avesnes to Bavay. Field Marshal Haig announced to-day.

The British Wireless Service says the latest information regarding the military situation at Ghent shows that the Allies have reached the suburbs, but that the town itself is still holding out. It is possible that, like Lens, Ghent will hold out until a successful encircling movement has been accomplished.

forty-two. Subtract it from the Democratic pre-election total and you get forty-four. Now, we lose one seat in Massachusetts. That gives us a total of fifty-one and increases the Democratic figure to forty-five, a clear and positive Republican majority in the upper House of six.

"In addition, there is a strong probability that we will win in Kentucky and Nevada, where the result is still in doubt, with the outlook most favorable for us."

The Democrats gained three representatives in New York State, with another district in doubt.

The Democrats refuse yet to concede defeat to Senator Balfour in Colorado and Senator Lewis in Illinois.

Some well known figures in public life will be retired or at least have closed shaves in yesterday's voting. Prominent among them are Senator Weeks, the junior Republican Senator from Massachusetts; Senator George F. Edmunds, Democrat; Senator Lewis of Illinois, the Democratic whip, defeated by Representative Medill McCormick of Chicago; Senator Hauldin of Delaware, President pro tem. of the Senate, defeated by former Senator Ball, Republican, and Representative Swiger Sherley, Democrat of Kentucky, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

With the results incomplete, Henry Ford was running behind Truman H. Newberry, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy, his Republican opponent, for the Senate in Michigan.

Joseph W. Folk, former Governor of Missouri and former chief counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission, running for Senator to succeed the late Senator Stone, was defeated by Judge Spencer, the Republican nominee.

Former Speaker Cannon was returned to his seat in the House from Illinois for what will be his twenty-second term.

Meyer London, the only Socialist in the House, was defeated by former Representative Henry M. Goldfogel, a Democrat, running with Republican endorsement. The loss of the Socialist seat, however, was offset by the election of another Socialist, Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, who defeated Representative Stafford, Republican, Berger and his supporters are under indictment charged with having violated the Espionage Law. All of the Socialist candidates in New York were beaten, among them Morris Hillquit, candidate for Mayor a year ago.

Representative Jeanette Rankin of Montana, the first woman to hold a seat in Congress who contested independently for a Senate seat, after being defeated in Republican primaries, is evidently beaten. Senator Walsh, Democrat, running ahead of his Republican and independent opponents.
